

second year, proposed for admission into full connection. A little line of twelve men stood before the presiding officer, and after the singing of a hymn listened carefully while the charge was delivered. The class was made up of the following: Powell, G. T. Forrester, L. W. Geyer, N. H. Smith, C. C. Gregory, J. J. Bradford, T. J. C. Heath, J. E. Hearn, J. B. McCartney, J. F. Carey and Samuel Otto Wright.

The charge by the bishop was rich in its wisdom of counsel and advice to the young men just entering upon the itinerant ministry. He besought them to establish as their standard the highest ideal and to travel ever on toward greater perfection.

The bishop impressed upon the young ministers the value and the great need of study, and declared that they should always set apart a time in which they hold uninterrupted communication with God. A minister sent out of his study in the morning, unless it is for sickness or a funeral should be discontinued.

Intense quiet prevailed in the house while he spoke of the prevalent "Amenities" that came here and there attested the undivided interest of the auditors.

ORPHANAGE REPORT.

At 12 o'clock the special order for the day—the Virginia Conference Orphanage—was called. The orphanage is a Richmond institution, and its report, brief and to the point, will be of particular interest. The paper is signed by Rev. E. H. Rawlins, president of the Board of Trustees. It reads as follows:

"Since our last report one year ago, in addition to the two splendid cottages, then just erected, our administrative building has been completed and furnished at a cost of $22,000. The orphanage was opened actually September 1, 1902. A year ago there were twelve children under our care. We have now fifty-one children in the orphanage, but are asked to take six others and there are many other applications for admission not yet acted upon. The buildings and equipment are paid for. We have raised very satisfactorily our running expenses up to date. The farm, 75.50 acres, one mile west of Richmond, cost $17,500, to be paid for $2,500 cash and $3,000 a year for five years. We have paid $6,500, have money subscribed for balance due this year and owe $9,000, payable $3,000 a year for three years. It is our policy to take these homeless children into the orphanage, give them a business education, train them in some useful employment so that they will be able to provide for themselves when they are old enough, or whenever possible, put them into Christian homes, where they will be well treated and trained intellectually and morally. We raise again our Ebenezer, believing confidently that the Lord has led us hitherto. We are gratified beyond expression at the reception that our orphanage has everywhere gotten at the hands of our people. There has been no movement among us that from its inception has been so successful and enthusiastic. Other claims may sometimes embarrass preachers and people in the churches, but this never does. The preachers testify that it is a delight to present the orphanage to the people, and the people are always ready to respond to the generous gifts. We request that our presiding bishop appoint J. W. Bledsoe, D. D., as canvassing agent, and Rev. J. T. Mastin superintendent of the orphanage."

The bishop made an able address by Captain Vawter, of the Miller Manual School, who made an earnest appeal for the children and for more orphanages, the remarks as above presented were unanimously adopted.

TRANSFER MATTER SETTLED.
At this juncture there happened a peculiar thing. A sudden silence prevailed in the room when the Rev. James Cannon, Jr., of Blackstone, arose and began to read from the resolution bearing upon the much discussed transfer matter. Everybody expected a tremendous fight, but to the surprise of all, the resolution was adopted without a dissenting voice. The conference was adjourned for a few days. It was a story of what did not happen.

The chorus of adoption say "aye," called the bishop at once. The chorus of ayes was broken into by the Rev. R. M. Maxey, of Richmond, who arose to endorse the resolution, and the question was taken up and the resolution was unanimously adopted as follows:

Whereas there is a misapprehension on the part of the general public as to the real position of the transfer matter, and the question of transfer, it being supported by many that the conference does not want any transfers, and that it is opposed to that feature of our economy;

Resolved 1, That we believe in the principle of transfer, and that it is a very important method for transferring men from one part of our territory to another, relieving the crowded condition of some of our conferences, and supplying the needs of others inadequately manned.

Resolved 2, That we extend a hearty welcome to all brethren who are transferred to us without any special appointment in view, who come with a willingness to accept of any appointment which may be assigned them after the needs of our work have been thoroughly canvassed by the proper authorities.

Resolved 3, That we cannot extend a hearty welcome to those transfers who come to us with an understanding made in advance with a particular church; that we believe such arrangements to be destructive of that fraternal spirit which should characterize the relations of Methodist preachers with each other and with the local churches, and that we furthermore believe that such arrangements are not necessary for properly caring for and developing our people.

Holding the above principles, we think it our duty to place them on record that our people and the church at large may know our position on this subject.

(Signed) James Cannon, Jr., R. F. Lipscomb, W. W. Lutz, R. H. Smith, C. L. Bane, W. C. Christian, G. H. Spooner, George W. Wray, E. G. Moreley, C. H. McGhee, R. F. Gayle.

SCATTERING BUSINESS.
Several prominent visitors were present during the day. Dr. D. B. Dose, general secretary of the Epworth League, spoke for this cause, and the Rev. Dr. W. H. B. of Brazil, told of the missionary work in that far away country. Professor H. M. Hamill spoke for the Sunday-school. All three addresses were unusually good, but that of Professor Hamill was the most effective. He spoke under great difficulties as to time, and once he had to ask the ministers to keep quiet that his voice might be heard. He was seconded here by the Bishop, who told the chattering brethren to go and be quiet.

But, in spite of it all, Dr. Hamill made a great speech, and the conference adopted a resolution thanking him for it.

Announcement was made to the effect that the Virginia Baptists in convention at Staunton, representing about 125,000 adult people of this Commonwealth, petition respectfully the Legislature to enact into law the bill introduced by Mr. Cunningham of Hampton, which puts social clubs on the same footing as bars.

This was adopted unanimously. SUNDAY-SCHOOLS.
Dr. J. M. Plicher offered the report of the Sunday-school and the Board. The report presents an interesting table of statistics, showing the religious needs and conditions of the State. The board has received during the year from the churches $6,317.75, and from other sources a sufficient sum to make a total of $22,611. The board has employed during the year twenty-one colporters and three Bible women.

Rev. B. C. Hening made a stirring address in behalf of this interest, and Dr. Plicher closed the discussion with a few words.

Rev. H. W. Thibault offered the report on the work of the Sunday-school Board at Nashville. Rev. B. S. Kennard, of Luray, and Dr. J. M. Frost made excellent addresses in this interest.

At 5 P. M. the body adjourned to visit, by special invitation, the Deaf and Dumb Asylum.

EVENING SESSION.
Hon. J. T. Elyson read the report on the Education Board as follows:

The board has under its care this session forty-two young men, twelve of whom are pursuing their studies at the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, and thirty at Richmond College. The number of students this session is fifteen less than last year. The report calls attention to the falling off in the number of young men preparing for the ministry in this country, but throughout the country, and mentions the fact that notwithstanding this there have been organized in Virginia in the last decade more than 150 churches, and that the membership of the churches of the general association has increased more than 20,000, yet the number of students in the ministry is no greater than it was ten years ago. The financial condition of the board has been very satisfactory, the receipts having been sufficient to pay all of the expenses during the year.

The report calls attention to the death of Mr. Josiah Ryland, for many years second vice-president of the board, and one of the oldest members, both in point of service and of years.

that the Virginia Conference Brotherhood will hold its twenty-second anniversary on Monday afternoon. The secretary's report will show that the brotherhood has raised and paid out for the widows of the four members who have died this year more than three thousand dollars.

An invitation from the University of Virginia to visit the institution was received and accepted.

CONFERENCE ADJOURNS.
About 1 o'clock the conference adjourned until to-morrow morning.

EPWORTH LEAGUE RALLY
Christian Advocate Report Expected to Cause Discussion.

(Staff Correspondence.)
CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., Nov. 13.—At night an immense congregation packed the little Conference Church for the occasion being an Epworth League rally of huge dimensions. The addresses were some of the finest ever heard in this city. The list of speakers included such names as those of the Rev. F. J. Prettymann, of Washington, chairman of the United States General Conference, and Rev. Dr. D. B. Dose, general secretary of the Epworth League.

The service was long, but of the very greatest interest to all. The cabinet held two meetings, one in the afternoon and one at night. Rapid headway, it is said, is being made with the appointments, but the brethren are still kept guessing. A number of delegations are here after pastors, and four big churches are engaged in a royal fight over Dr. W. J. Young.

The Rev. W. A. Christian will certainly return to Berkeley, all reports to the contrary notwithstanding. Dr. Christian said to-night that so far as he knew, the Kellam affair was a dead issue. He did not believe Kellam intended to do anything.

It is expected by some that the Advocate report will cause a big discussion which it comes up to-day. Others feel that the recommendations are satisfactory to all sides and that they will be carried through without much talk. The stockholders of the Advocate Company met to-night and discussed the situation, and the board of directors of the same company announced that the report of the committee was satisfactory to them with a few minor changes, which they will propose to-day.

committee to steady the white-negro situation.

A STRONG PLEA.
Dr. John E. White, of the Home Mission Board at Atlanta, Ga., was then introduced, and brought the warm greetings of Georgia Baptists. He discussed the cause and effect of home missions, and the need of greater power and eloquence, and made a fine impression on the body. He, too, pleaded especially for new and more practical interest in the religious condition of the negroes.

Professor S. C. Mitchell then addressed the body. The president of the board, he said, is of utmost importance, yet these are negligible quantities compared with the tremendous task of carrying the gospel to these nine millions of black people among us. He held up letters from leading and influential negroes in Virginia, expressing the hope that the estrangement between the races might disappear. He spoke with a fiery and tender eloquence, which made the session memorable in the history of the body.

MEMORIAL TO LEGISLATURE.
The first item in the afternoon session was a resolution offered by Dr. John Pollard, as follows:

"Whereas social clubs have, under a State charter, replaced in many communities the saloons, which had been driven out by the Mann law, and thus defeat the will of the people of Virginia; and

Whereas, these social clubs are a more insidious evil by far than the saloon which existed under local license and local restrictions; therefore,

"Resolved, That the General Association of Virginia Baptists in convention at Staunton, representing about 125,000 adult people of this Commonwealth, petition respectfully the Legislature to enact into law the bill introduced by Mr. Cunningham of Hampton, which puts social clubs on the same footing as bars."

This was adopted unanimously.

EVENING SESSION.
Hon. J. T. Elyson read the report on the Education Board as follows:

The board has under its care this session forty-two young men, twelve of whom are pursuing their studies at the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, and thirty at Richmond College. The number of students this session is fifteen less than last year. The report calls attention to the falling off in the number of young men preparing for the ministry in this country, but throughout the country, and mentions the fact that notwithstanding this there have been organized in Virginia in the last decade more than 150 churches, and that the membership of the churches of the general association has increased more than 20,000, yet the number of students in the ministry is no greater than it was ten years ago. The financial condition of the board has been very satisfactory, the receipts having been sufficient to pay all of the expenses during the year.

The report calls attention to the death of Mr. Josiah Ryland, for many years second vice-president of the board, and one of the oldest members, both in point of service and of years.

Emphasis is laid upon the desirableness of thorough preparation on the part of ministerial students, and the churches are urged to impress upon the young men the value of a complete college and seminary course, and the importance of making the fullest possible preparation for the work to which they have been called. The beneficiaries of the board are commended as worthy of the continued support and confidence of the community.

Discussion was postponed. "Our denominational papers" was the next theme discussed at the evening session.

R. H. Pitt was in charge and speeches in warm commendation of the Religious Herald were made by Drs. C. S. Blackwell, of Norfolk, and J. M. Frost, of Nashville.

William Elyson, Esq., then read the report on State missions as follows:

"Praise God from whom all blessings flow," is a fitting expression with which to open this report, since we are able to report the most blessed year of work ever done by the Baptists of Virginia. The value of our denominational enterprises, the board under instructions of the general association has increased its missionary force to 100. This is the largest force ever employed in any one year. They occupied 332 stations, preached 9,333 sermons, baptized 1,331 persons, aided pastors in meetings with 20,593 religious visits, organized 11 Sunday-schools and 10 churches, were building 32 houses of worship, and completed 10. In the work of church building they raised $18,331, and of this amount, $14,306 was raised on their own efforts.

Special attention has been given this year to evangelistic work. The board has now in the field four brethren finely qualified for this difficult and exacting service. Rev. W. S. Lenke entered upon his work April 1st, Rev. W. F. Fisher on June 1st, Revs. M. J. Willis and J. Craft on November 1st. The board is looking in the field for the spiritual elevation of the people. The board suggests the policy of giving to each of these a special territory in which to labor.

COLOR-ED EVANGELIZATION.
The board is giving special attention to the question how to reach and help the colored people of the State. The report says: "We should not only continue to give them financial aid, but we should have a clearer understanding of our relations to them and a stronger faith in what the gospel of Christ can do for their moral and spiritual elevation. We should commend the spirit and tone of recent editorials in the Religious Herald on this subject. We think the time has come when the general association ought to take this phase of our work under prayerful consideration."

Special favorable mention is made of the work of Elder Henry Garland, who has proved himself pre-eminently fitted for arousing interest in this great work. Through his wise efforts a number of laymen have been led to make special contributions sufficient to pay the salaries of three of the colored evangelists.

FINANCES.
The finances of the board are in excellent shape, as may be seen from the following statement:

Balance on hand October 31, 1902, $1,000.00; collections, $1,000.00; disbursements, $1,000.00; balance on hand October 31, 1903, $1,000.00.

The board recommends—First, the continuance for at least one year of the district campaign meetings; Second, the general association, as soon after the district meetings as possible, the pastors hold meetings of one or two days' duration for prayer and conference about the spiritual interests of their fields and the best means of arousing an interest in our people on the subject of personal work for the salvation of men. The board asks this year for $25,000 from the Baptists of Virginia.

The report was discussed by Dr. A. L. Pickard and others and adopted.

COUNTY LIBRARIES.
A Committee Appointed to Confer With Andrew Carnegie.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
RALEIGH, N. C., Nov. 13.—The State Literary and Historical Association at their annual meeting last night selected Dr. C. Alfonso Smith president and Mrs. Judge R. W. Winston, of Durham; Mrs. Ashley Harris, of Clayton, and Hon. J. W. Hunt, of Washington, N. C., vice-presidents. A resolution was adopted appointing a committee to confer with Andrew Carnegie, of New York, if any he would consent to establish a free circulating library in each county seat in the Commonwealth.

The association adopted a resolution appointing Judge Walter Clark, Capt. A. A. Ashe, Judge W. A. Montgomery, Capt. M. E. Taylor, of Raleigh, and Hon. J. C. Avery and Major E. J. Hale a committee to take under consideration recent allegations of the State of North Carolina in the history of the Civil War and that this committee report to the next meeting of this association as soon as possible.

State Auditor Dixon, as secretary of the State of North Carolina, announced that he had received from the Confederate pension roll for this year 101 first-class, 305 second-class, 615 third-class, 6,875 fourth-class pensions, and that the total amount of increase of 745 pensioners over last year. During the year 394 pensioners died. There will be a total of 10,000 pensioners this year as compared with last year.

Governor Aycock ordered two special terms of Burke County Superior Court yesterday, the first to convene January 18th, Judge Long presiding, and the second, January 24th, with Judge Shaw presiding.

Governor Aycock this morning granted a pardon to John Harrison, who was convicted in the Granville County Court in November, 1900, of murder in the second degree in killing his child, Benjie Harrison. His sentence was for twenty years and she has served thirteen years and has been a well-behaved prisoner.

The pardon was asked by the people of the community, and many ladies doing missionary work among the prisoners. They have secured a good position for her.

OBITUARY.
Mrs. Annie Hicks.

Mrs. Annie Hicks, wife of William Hicks, died Wednesday night at Highland Springs. Mrs. Hicks was but two years of age, and had been married less than eighteen months. She leaves an infant daughter only one week old. She bore with Christian fortitude her last illness, thinking more of the loved ones, especially husband and baby, than of her own suffering.

Her funeral was preached at New Bridge Baptist Church yesterday at 3:30 P. M., and the interment was made close beside the mother, who preceded her to the grave less than two years ago.

Besides her husband, she leaves a father, three sisters and two brothers. Hosts of friends witnessed last and rites.

Mrs. Elizabeth Woolwine.
(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

ROANOKE, Va., Nov. 13.—Mrs. Elizabeth Woolwine died this morning at the residence of her son, John Woolwine, aged eighty years. She was a native of Montgomery county, and was one of the best known women in this section.

She is survived by seven children—Mr. John Woolwine and Mrs. John Gilliam, of this city; Mrs. John Gilliam, of Norfolk; Mrs. John Harmon, of Dublin; Mrs. Thomas Williams, of Cambray; Mrs. William Goodkyn, of Floyd; Mr. William Woolwine, of Shelbyville, Ky., and six grandchildren and twelve great-grandchildren.

E. T. Jones.
(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

CHATHAM, Va., Nov. 13.—E. T. Jones, an honored citizen of Chatham, died at the home of his son-in-law, H. D. Shepherd, from heart and kidney trouble Thursday.

When the war broke Mr. Jones was deputy in the County Court clerk's office under the late Langhorne Scruggs. He was a member of the 10th Virginia Cavalry, and was attached to the Sixth Virginia Regiment of Cavalry. He was elected commissioner of the revenue for Chatham District. After serving his term as commissioner, he embarked in the mercantile business, and for many years was one of the leading merchants of Chatham. He was chairman of the County Board of Supervisors for many years. Mr. Jones was born in 1823, and is survived by a wife, three sons, and a daughter.

Mr. Jones was a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and was a member of the Chatham and one brother, R. J. Jones, of Danville.

Mrs. Sophia E. Baylor.
(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

THE PATTERSON BANKRUPTCY CASE

Affairs of the Railroad Promoter Placed in the Court's Hands

Several days ago Mr. B. F. Patterson, through his counsel, Mr. Edgar Allan, entered a petition of voluntary bankruptcy in the United States Court and the case was put into the hands of the Petersburg referee.

Neither the amount of liabilities or assets was mentioned, and they will not be known until the matter before the referee is inquired into. Mr. Patterson's creditors will be asked to file their claims, and then the amount of assets will be determined and the matter will be adjudicated.

Mr. Patterson was vice-president and manager of the Blackstone and Southern Railroad, a company which he is said to have promoted, and which was to run between Chase City and Blackstone. The scheme was a big one. Considerable capital was required for the enterprise. As an evidence of the good faith upon which he worked he settled himself and his family at Chase City, and the grades laid out. It has gone and the grades laid out. It has gone and the grades laid out. It has gone and the grades laid out.

The hearing in the bankruptcy proceedings will be held in Petersburg, and it is a question as to how they will end. Mr. Edgar Allan, counsel for Mr. Patterson, could not be found last night, and it was said that he was in Norfolk.

Mr. Patterson had some dealings in this city with Mr. J. R. Tisdale, William Hartle and the John A. Waters Company, but his dealings seem to have been in the regular business of the company.

The hearing in the bankruptcy proceedings will be held in Petersburg, and it is a question as to how they will end. Mr. Edgar Allan, counsel for Mr. Patterson, could not be found last night, and it was said that he was in Norfolk.

FALSE WEIGHTS.
This is Allegation in Suit Against Cotton Gin Manager.

SALISBURY, N. C., Nov. 13.—An unusual suit has been instituted in this county against Mr. Charles Klutz, manager of a cotton ginning establishment, near Salisbury, for false weights. It is alleged that he has been defrauding his customers (the bulk of out of hundreds and perhaps thousands of pounds of seed cotton, which had been hauled to his ginners).

The suit was brought yesterday by Mr. J. T. Waler, a farmer living east of Salisbury, who claims that on several occasions he has weighed his load of cotton before taking it to the Klutz gin, where the weights have varied from fifty to two hundred pounds in loads of 1,000 pounds to 1,400 pounds. A dozen or more farmers living in the same community, it is said, have met with the same experience at this gin, and a dozen or more indictments are to follow.

The law requires that all scales must be tested once every two years by the county keeper of standard weights and measures, but it is learned that this statute has not been complied with in this case. The case was on record with the county court, but F. M. Lampson, Esq., upon an affidavit of the defendant, will be heard next week before Justice Fesperman.

Many were the tragic scenes enacted at the various voting precincts in the colored election held in Salisbury yesterday, not of bitterness and fighting, but of beseeching and entreaty. Ladies being at all places of balloting, mothers were to be seen pleading with their sons to vote "aye." Many had refused to vote "aye" with hoarse heads were seen begging their employes to vote dry.

While each side made a desperate effort, yet the election was conducted with order and without bloodshed. The temperance workers made a good showing, and take their defeat gracefully, while the saloon element is jubilant over their victory.

CORPORATION COMMISSION CONSIDERS FREIGHT RATES
(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
GREENSBORO, N. C., Nov. 13.—The North Carolina Corporation Commission, which has been in session here for the past two days hearing the case of The Greensboro Ice and Coal Company against the Southern Railway, adjourned to-night and the examination of witnesses, summed in the case addressing the commission briefly just before adjournment. It is contended by the Southern Railway that the Corporation Commission has no right to force a railroad company to buy a side track off of its right of way, or to place cars on a track already built.

Another contention of the railroad is that the Corporation Commission has no right to make an order affecting shipments from without the State. Both of these contentions are denied by the ice and coal company. No decision was reached by the commission to-night, and it may be several days before a decision is rendered.

The commission went to Charlotte to-night where they will hear an application for a readjustment of the freight rates on the Southern Railway between Charlotte and Wilmington.

CASE SETTLED.
Street Litigation That Has Been in the Courts Sixteen Years.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
DURHAM, N. C., Nov. 13.—The Peabody Street litigation, which was argued in the Court of Appeals in Richmond this week, has been compromised and everything is now settled. Under the compromise the Southern Railway will build a side track off of its right of way, and place cars on a track already built.

Another contention of the railroad is that the Corporation Commission has no right to make an order affecting shipments from without the State. Both of these contentions are denied by the ice and coal company. No decision was reached by the commission to-night, and it may be several days before a decision is rendered.

Weekly Journal Suspends.
(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
FAIRMONT, Va., Nov. 13.—The South-east Examiner, a weekly newspaper published in this place, has suspended publication. There was no issue this week. Mr. J. Steine McIlwaine, a well known young lawyer of this place, is the owner and editor, and his reason for the suspension of the publication is that the work interfered to an extent with his law business.

The Examiner was a very popular paper in Prince Edward and adjacent counties.

Thirty-six years of continuous success

Just think what that means. Thirty-six years in business, each year more successful than the previous one, with never a backward movement, constantly growing larger, ever increasing in popularity. How many concerns in this country have such a proud record? How many that were doing business thirty-six years ago are even in existence to-day? Very few. But thirty-six years of continuous success and still growing larger. Think of it! How that has been accomplished? In just this way. By selling absolutely pure whiskey, direct from our own distillery to the consumer, with all its original richness and flavor, saving him the enormous profits of the dealers, and by carrying out to the letter every statement or one that we make, thereby creating a confidence with our over a quarter of a million satisfied customers that cannot be broken.

Direct from our distillery to YOU!
Saves Dealers' Profits! Prevents Adulteration!
